Kago, Kastom and Kalja: The Study of Indigenous Movements in Melanesia Today (Cahiers du Credo) (Volume 2) Marc Tabani

This volume, bringing together six ethnographic papers and an epilogue first presented at ASAO sessions in 2009 (Santa Cruz) and 2010 Alexandria), includes a wealth of ethnographic and historical information on a topic of enduring interest in Pacific studies and anthropology: cargo cults. These fascinating social phenomena undoubtedly have ongoing relevance for ethnographies of Melanesia. In this collection of papers, we learn about the history of the concept itself as well as how contemporary movements articulate world views, political awareness, material desires and even criticism of the now globalized concept of cargo cult itself. The chapters offer remarkable stories of cult activities and interesting arguments about the entanglement of Western desire for both cargo and cults with these Melanesian visions of how to create a prosperous future for themselves.

From reader reviews:

Walter Godinez:

In this 21st century, people become competitive in every way. By being competitive right now, people have to do something to make themselves survive, being in the middle of the actual crowded place and notice by their surroundings. One thing that sometimes many people have underestimated for a while is reading. Yep, by reading a publication your ability to survive is then boosted, having a chance to endure that is higher than others. For you personally who want to start reading any book, we give you this kind of Kago, Kastom and Kalja: The Study of Indigenous Movements in Melanesia Today (Cahiers du Credo) (Volume 2) book as a beginning and daily reading publication. Why, because this book is usually more than just a book.

Armando Lemaire:

Nowadays reading books are more than a want or need but also a life style. This reading habit gives you a lot of advantages. Advantages you get of course the knowledge and the rest of the information inside the book that improves your knowledge and information. The details you get based on what kind of e-book you read, if you want to get more knowledge just go with education books but if you want to really feel happy read one having a theme for entertaining like a comic or novel. The actual Kago, Kastom and Kalja: The Study of Indigenous Movements in Melanesia Today (Cahiers du Credo) (Volume 2) is a kind of publication which is giving the reader a capricious experience.

Kurt Chapman:

Are you kind of an active person, only have 10 or even 15 minutes in your time to upgrade your mind, talent or thinking skills, actually analytical thinking? Then you are receiving a problem with the book compared to not being able to satisfy your short time to read it because pretty much everything you only find a publication that needs more time to be studied. Kago, Kastom and Kalja: The Study of Indigenous Movements in Melanesia Today (Cahiers du Credo) (Volume 2) can be your answer mainly because it can be read by an individual who has those short extra time problems.

Eduardo Ford:

Reading a book to be a new life style in this year; every person loves to study a book. When you go through a book you can get a lot of benefit. When you read textbooks, you can improve your knowledge, because a book has a lot of information in it. The information that you will get depends on what types of book that you have read. In order to get information about your review, you can read education books, but if you want to entertain yourself you can read a fiction book, these are novels, comics, in addition to soon.
