Acts for God: 38 Dramatic Sketches for Contemporary Services Shirley Howard

True confessions over lattes and mochas, making deals with God, a heavenly special operations team assigned to work with three human agents, an infomercial, a support group and playing phone tag...There's something for many preferences and situations in this proven collection of compelling dramatic sketches on a wide variety of themes. Equally effective for long time Christians as well as those new to the faith. These seeker-friendly sketches don't attempt to tell the whole story. They are designed to inspire thought and even raise questions as an introduction to the sermon. The themes include materialism, marriage, accountability, commitment, self-control, faith vs works, forgiveness, parenthood and many more. The themes are referenced in the topic index for a quick pairing with your sermon topic. Performance is kept simple, with playing times ranging from five to eight minutes and props, costumes and set pieces that are common household items or easily constructed with simple materials. These lively scenarios will add a distinctive flair to your services -- attentive congregation guaranteed!
